

Penguin

Lexie Z. #32

Web Document

2.22.08

Introduction

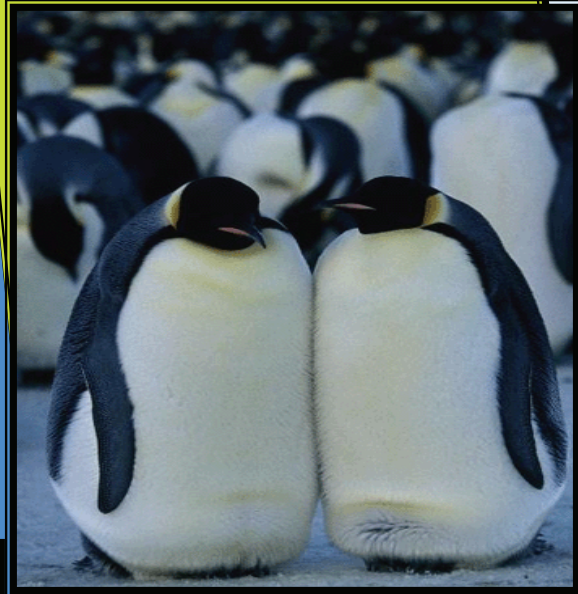

Have you ever wondered what a Penguin eats, what size it is, and what its lifestyle is like? Well if you do then here are some interesting facts about Penguins. Sea Lions are their predators, and Penguins waddle instead of walk because their legs are too short. The purpose of this document is to inform you

Young

Female Penguins lay two large eggs in a nest made of twigs and pebbles. They hatch between thirty to sixty days. When the Chicks grow up the father leaves for one year then comes back to the same

Habitat and Food

They live in the Southern half of the world or known as Antarctica. Penguins don't really migrate because it is winter all year round where they live. The types of food they eat are Fish, Squid, and Krill.

<http://uashome.alaska.edu/~jndfg20/website/>

Description

Their bodies are usually black and white, but when are babies they are brown and white with orange colored webbed feet. Penguins usually grow up to

Conclusion

This document is some of the most interesting facts I have learned about Penguins and I hope you have learned as much as I have. So now that you have seen this document I hope you have learned a little more about Penguins

Penguin