

Peek of the Week

Mar. 1 – Mar. 5, 2010

Room 15 - Mrs. Halvorson

Dear Families,

The past two weeks your student has been working very hard on doing research on a famous American. On March 11th from 3-3:30pm we will be inviting our families to come see us dress up as our famous Americans during the grand opening of The Woodland Wax Museum. Ask your student what famous American they are so they can start preparing what to wear when they dress up as their person. Next week we will be practicing staying frozen like wax figures... we may need lots of practice. ☺

Also, students will be making stuffed puppets of their famous people this week. If you have any extra 'adult looking' baby clothes or fabric that the kids could cut up and use to make their famous people you may send it with your child to class. We are all very excited to open our museum and hope you can join us. Look for more information coming soon!

Sincerely – Mrs. Halvorson and Miss K.
