

Osseo Area District Nutrition Staff News Brief Full Steam Ahead - Taste-Testing is in Motion!

Wow, it has been so much fun to see Osseo school kitchens, big and small, include students of all ages in the magic of taste-testing tasty vegetable dishes.

Has it taken Planning? Yes. Has it taken Effort? Definitely. Has it taken Courage? You bet. And so much more! And the amazing thing about this is kitchens are stepping up to the plate to make this happen. Kudos to you all for making the most out of this opportunity and embracing the activity.

Photos courtesy (left to right) OALC, Achieve, Garden City

I strongly encourage you to continue sharing your taste-test experience with your colleagues as the insights learned can be applied to the daily duties of providing awesome, nourishing, meals for your students.

If your taste-test activity is on the horizon, try to capture photos of kids trying food, kids smiling and interacting, close ups of the food, photos of taste test activity as a whole.

It's been a privilege helping and offering ideas, keep asking, I'm happy to be a resource in any way I can.

Keep up the great work, and I look forward to hearing about your taste-test adventure!

All the best, Chef Marshall

chefmarshall@chefmarshallobrien.com • www.chefmarshallobrien.com