WHAT I'VE DONE AND WHERE I'M GOING (Action Plan Exercise)

Your future will be here before you know it! Do you know where you are and where you are going?

You have six critical time periods between now and graduation: the present, summer, next fall, next winter, next spring, and next summer. Use the following

After considering your options after high school, I have tentatively decided to enter one of the following occupations:

In order to shorten the list, or to be more sure about my occupational choice, I need to do the following things (examples: visit with the Career Resource Center to get more information, talk with people in these occupations, send for more information, get a part-time job that will allow me to try out or observe this kind of work, take a course, etc.):

The tentative selection of these occupations means that I will (place a check to the left of appropriate tasks and enter any necessary information in the right column):

	Go to work immediately after high school
	Enter an apprenticeship after high school
	Find a new job now
	Go to a technical college and major in...
	Go to a community college and major in...
	Go to a four-year college and major in...
	Go to a graduate school and major in...
	Enter a military training program and get trained in...
	Other...

I am considering the following schools to further my education:

College Name	Location	Approximate Cost Per Year

In order to shorten this list or be more sure about my school selection, I need to do the following things (examples: visit the school, talk with the Career Resource Center, talk with graduates from the college, apply for admission, apply for financial aid, complete a housing application, submit my registration and/or housing deposits, etc.):
