ATTENTION VOLUNTEERS: There are always many volunteer opportunities at this time of year and your help is not only appreciated but is essential to the success of the activity. This is just a reminder that if you sign up to volunteer at an activity, the group holding the event is counting on you. If something happens and you can't fulfill your commitment, please let someone know (either at the event or Marsha Newcomb, Volunteer Coordinator). The businesses, schools and especially the elementary students appreciate all you do – please don't let them down.
